

Tired Troops Wonder Where They Can Stop Reds In Korea

(By The Associated Press)
TOKYO—(P)—The big Red Chinese army was reported entering abandoned Pyongyang tonight on a momentous face-saving mission for Soviet-sponsored Communism in the Orient.

United Nations forces representing 53 non-Communist countries had driven the broken and fleeing Red Korean army from their Pyongyang capital Oct. 20.

Excess Profits Bill In Clear

House Nears Final Vote On Measure

By WILLIAM F. AREOGAST

WASHINGTON—(P)—A multi-billion dollar excess profits tax bill was ready for House approval today. It apparently faced clear sailing in the Senate later.

Passage at the close of House debate today appeared certain. There was a possibility, however, that the final vote might be put off until tomorrow.

The Republicans are backing a bill to impose a milder excess profits levy coupled with a 5 per cent hike in the maximum corporate income tax rate. They propose a 75 per cent tax on profits in excess of the 1946-1949 average and a boost in the maximum tax rate on so-called normal profits from 45 to 50 per cent.

The GOP policy committee approved the substitute yesterday and claimed it would produce more revenue than the administration bill sent to the House by its Ways and Means committee.

The administration bill would apply the 75 per cent tax rate to corporate profits which exceed 40 per cent of the 1946-1949 average computed on the basis of a taxpayer's best three of those years. It does not call for any increases in normal or surtax in other rates.

Rep. Potter Proposes Extra Pay Of $150 For GI's In Combat

WASHINGTON—(P)—If Rep. Potter (R-Mich.) has his way, combat GI's will get $150 extra a month.

He introduced a bill in Congress to provide $5 a day to all GI's as hazardous duty pay. Nothing's been done on it. Today he said he would introduce the bill again in January when the next Congress begins.

"I hope to organize real support for it next year," he told a reporter. "Potter knows what combat duty is like for the infantryman. He was one in the last war and lost both legs."

Shipping Season Near End On Great Lakes

CHICAGO—(P)—The Great Lakes shipping season will probably end soon, a coast guard official said yesterday.

Approximately 100 vessels are still operating. Lake Superior despite ice 12 inches thick in the Duluth area, said Capt. Nathaniel Fulford, Chicago area chief.

But lake marine insurance contracts expire Dec. 15 and Fulford expects shipping will shut down before then.

He said a cold wave due today may hasten winter berthing of vessels still operating.

in retreat to the south, wondering where they might stand and defend against Red China's onrushing swarms.

The Chinese "liberators" found the Red capital a flaming, smoking city, ravaged of installations and supplies that might be of military advantage.

The Red return was certain to be hailed throughout the Communist world.

First reports of Pyongyang's return to Red control came from late arrivals among the Korean refugees swarming south out of the city. They said Chinese troops forded the icy Taedong river that cuts through a section of Pyongyang.

Last Bridges Blasted

The one-time city of 300,000 population was something of an empty shell. Thousands of Koreans had fled in terror of the Red return.

earlier Tuesday after blasting the last bridges on the Taedong.

A U. S. 25th division patrol scouted the outskirts later and reported it had seen no Chinese. But a smoke pall from burning Allied supplies and installations hung over the area.

Masses of Chinese Red troops, the vanguard of more than 1,000,000 which General MacArthur said had been committed to the Korean campaign, had turned the tide of battle.

In the northeast, marines and doughboys fought to break out of a deep Red Chinese trap clamped south of Changjin reservoir. Other Chinese masses mounted twin drives to cut off the entire 10th corps of five divisions.

On the northwest front, British and South Korean troops in a one-guard shield protected the fleeing Eighth army which less

Recount Adds 291 To Williams Lead

DETROIT—(P)—Recount of Michigan's nearly 2,000,000 votes for governor in the Nov. 7 election moved slowly but steadily along today as Democratic Gov. G. Mennen Williams continued to add to his lead over Republican Harry F. Kelly.

With 296 of the state's 4,335 precincts recounted as of this morning, Gov. Williams margin rose to 1,445 votes, 291 more than his edge of 1,154 in the final official canvass more than three weeks ago.

Only 29 of the state's 83 counties had really got into the recounting, however, with 30 more starting their reckoning today. The rest of the state will be going full swing by the end of the week.

On a basis of the 296 precincts already recounted the adjusted

Williams (D) 935,160
Kelly (R) 933,715

These totals represent changes (votes won and lost by both candidates) for that part of the recount completed so far. Williams' biggest gains unearthed in the first three days of the recount came in Wayne, Hillsdale, Jackson and Midland counties. Wayne county, after recounting 237 of its 1,748 precincts, showed Williams gaining 173 votes and Kelly losing one.

Hillsdale recounters tossed out 34 Kelly votes and four Williams ballots, giving the Democratic governor a net gain of 30.

Jackson county threw out 17 challenged votes for Kelly and gave Williams one more than he had in the original count of the three precincts it checked first.

Midland county threw out 215 Kelly votes and 197 Williams votes in a single precinct because the ballots weren't properly initialed by election officials.

Straits Killings Story Checked
MATTISON MAN TURNED OVER TO MICHIGAN

CECILIA, Ill.—(P)—Bill Blair, who says he killed two persons in Michigan, will be flown there to try to prove his story to doubting authorities.

The state of Illinois planned to turn him over to Michigan officers today.

After giving Blair a lie detector test yesterday, Michigan police still weren't ready to make up their minds about the 36-year-old Mattison, Ill., man's "confession."

Blair said he had killed a man and woman, known to him as "Ben" and "Babe," and left the bodies north of St. Ignace, Mich.

Michigan police could find no evidence of such a slaying.

However, state police detective Edwin C. Johnston indicated puzzlement after the lie detector examination.

"He either actually killed them or he believes that he did," Johnston said. "The test indicates he is telling the truth. We find no deception."

Blair's return to Michigan was authorized on the basis of his waiver of extradition on a bad check charge.

Edith Wenigwars, 21, his companion when arrested here, agreed to return with Blair.

Taft Says GOP Not Consulted In War Crisis

Removal Of UN Army In Korea Demanded

By JACK BELL

WASHINGTON—(P)—Senator Taft (R-Ohio) said today the administration is not asking Republicans for advice on how to meet the desperate crisis in Korea.

Taft's statement came after Senator Hoyer (D-NC) capped an outburst of Democratic and Republican advice in the Senate yesterday with a demand for withdrawal of all American troops from Korea.

Bluffing Didn't Work
Hoyer said in a statement that "the supreme consideration now is to get our soldiers out of Korea and prevent a general slaughter."

"We have tried bluffing in Korea and it did not work and it probably will not work by the precipitate use of the atomic bomb," Hoyer declared.

Calling the Senate Republican policy committee together to discuss the crisis, Taft told a reporter there has been no move at recent bipartisan conferences to obtain GOP opinions on Korea not on President Truman's talks with British Prime Minister Attlee.

Instead, Taft said, the bipartisan meetings had produced only a recital of events. Another Republican senator who asked not to be named concurred in this description of the sessions.

"This isn't the kind of consultation that produces unified policies," Taft said. "In fact, we are not being consulted at all."

Advice Ignored
Senator Cain (R-Wash.) told the Senate yesterday the advice of Republican and of Democratic members of Congress is being ignored.

He said the Truman administration has shared with the country little of its knowledge of the great threat to American security involved in the Korean fighting.

Calling the situation in Korea "impossible and fantastic" because of the ban on bombing Chinese supply lines in Manchuria, Cain said "we must let General MacArthur use every means and every weapon against the enemy or we must endeavor to entirely remove the United Nations forces from Korea."

Chairman Connally (D-Tex.) of the Senate Foreign Relations committee said he was invited to sit in at a luncheon meeting of President Truman and Attlee. So far as could be learned no Republican committee men got similar invitations.

Men In Uniform Get Special Rail Rates For Holiday Travel

CHICAGO—(P)—Military personnel in uniform will be offered reduced round trip fares on the nation's railroads during the Christmas holiday season.

The fares, good in coaches, will be cut for the service men and women from Dec. 15 to Jan. 10. They will be at the rate of two cents a mile and will have a return limit of Jan. 15.

The cut in fares was approved yesterday at a meeting of the Transcontinental Passenger association.

The reduced fares compare with 3.375 cents a mile in the east and 2.5 cents in the west.

Etna Erupts Again

CATANIA, Sicily—(P)—Mt. Etna belched smoke and flames today in a new burst of activity which posed new dangers from flowing lava to villages on the volcano's slopes seriously threatened a week ago. Streams of lava pushed from several scores of holes and blazed down the mountain side.

No Quitting In U. N. Defeat, Says Truman

DAUGHTER DIES, PARENTS FLEE — Ted Smith, 27, and his six-foot-tall wife Crystal, 25, (above) were held at Muskegon for investigation of murder after the battered body of their 'unruly' little daughter was found Dec. 2 buried in the back yard and the Smiths were preparing to flee in a rented trailer. The pair admitted beating Mrs. Smith's daughter, Carol Ann, 4, but said they found the child dead in her crib and feared to report the death because the child bore the marks of beatings. (AP Photo)

Legislature Winds Up 1950 With Final Slap At Governor

LANSING—(P)—The 1950 special legislative session, longest in state history, ended last night by giving Governor Williams a final slap in the face.

The Senate confirmed David M. Martin, Flint Democrat, to the state liquor control commission only a few hours after Williams tried to purge him in retaliation for having voted to reinstate Louis A. Kunzig as commission executive director.

Appointment Ignored
The Senate ignored the fact that Williams had sent in another appointment to take Martin's place—George Burke, Jr., of Ann Arbor—and confirmed Martin anyway.

Then the Senate adjourned and leaders said it would not return before its life ends Dec. 31. The House did not meet last night, and it can do little business without the Senate. The two chambers have been in recess mostly since June.

To all intents and purposes, apparently, the session which Williams summoned March 15 in hopes of writing an election-year program of legislation, ended as it started—in a feud with the chief executive.

Democrats Pleased
The result of the Senate adjournment was to leave at least 22 of Williams' appointments invalid after Dec. 31, including Chairman John H. McCarthy of the state public service service commission. This was the member not confirmed by the Senate when it quit.

Martin, whose confirmation has been delayed for nearly a year, won confirmation in a show of power by the Republican majority. The G. O. P. leadership vaulted the order of business in which Williams' withdrawal of Martin's name was contained and went at once to the business of confirming him.

Democrats, only seven in number, objected futilely, but were gagged. Afterwards the Senate Democrats, who have feuded themselves with Williams, seemed

Enemy Captures AP Cameraman

Frank Noel Taken By Chinese Reds

NORTHEAST FRONT, Korea —(P)—Associated Press photographer Frank Noel was marched away "toward the north" by his Chinese captors Saturday, reports from escaped prisoners said today. An eyewitness reported Noel was not wounded.

More light on the capture of the veteran Pulitzer prize winning cameraman came today from two Marine MPs, who were taken prisoner with Noel but later escaped. Their story, as related by Capt. Michael Capraro, Marine public information officer, was flown out of the encircled town of Koto today.

"When the Chinese hit our convoy we decided to make a fight of it," Marine Pfc. William R. Spain of Georgetown, Tex., told Capraro. "When Frank joined us, he was the coolest of the lot. In fact, I thought the old guy was a Marine warrent officer. We were all mixed and in the darkness I didn't at first recognize the guy with the camera."

Cpl. Lawrence A. Plaisance of Portland, Ore., who escaped with Spain when the Chinese guard relaxed his vigil, told Capraro that Noel was marched away to the north by the Chinese.

Plaisance said Noel and other American prisoners were treated "very decently" by the Chinese.

Fire Traps Driver

Powers To Avoid Open War With Communist China

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER

WASHINGTON—(P)—President Truman said today United Nations forces in Korea are fighting "against tremendous odds." But he declared that no matter what happens there the fight for freedom will go on.

His somber-toned report came amid growing talk in Congress and elsewhere that the U. N. military situation has begun to appear almost hopeless and may force a Dunkerque-type withdrawal by sea.

Struggle Goes On

Mr. Truman took time out from a round of conferences with American military-diplomatic advisers, and with Prime Minister Attlee of Britain, to address the White House conference of children and youth.

U. S. Has Worst Loss In Korea

American Casualties Now Total 31,784

(By The Associated Press)

With the exception of the Koreans themselves, the United States has contributed the most and suffered by far the greatest casualties in the United Nations war to turn back Communist aggression in Korea.

The total number of Americans fighting on the ground in Korea is estimated at about 100,000. Probably about 26,000 more naval and air force men have been engaged. The total casualties of all three services total 31,784, including 4,789 killed, 21,900 wounded and 5,018 missing. These casualties include only those whose next of kin had been notified up to Dec. 4.

Unofficial estimates have placed the number in the ROK (Republic of Korea) army at about 100,000. The Korean defense minister said on Dec. 2 he believed nearly 1,000,000 South Korean soldiers, police and civilians had died. He did not disclose how he arrived at the estimate. Previously, President Syngman Rhee had given a rough estimate of 100,000 military and 200,000 civilian deaths. He said his estimate was based on the reports of governors, magistrates and police.

Five other nations have about 17,900 men in action in Korea. Available reports, admittedly incomplete, indicate they have suffered about 349 casualties. These figures would indicate that the United States has furnished about six times as many men for the ground fighting as the other U. N. Allies and has suffered more than 90 times as many casualties.

Gas Pipeline Burns
PORTSMOUTH, O.—(P)—Millions of cubic feet of natural gas burned last night in an explosion of a main pipeline of the Tennessee Gas Transmission Co. 10 miles southeast of here.

The idea of establishing and holding a line across the Korean peninsula appears almost if not entirely hopeless.

There was some belief on the part of American leaders that it might be possible to maintain a foothold on Korea. This would be justified if there was reason to expect a new buildup of U. N. forces capable of dealing with the Chinese Communist masses and so far there is no evidence such a buildup is planned.

Bradley Stresses Fight

In London, a British informant said Mr. Truman and Attlee have determined that United Nations should return to Korea in event the Chinese Communists drive them out at this time. However such a return appeared here as unlikely at any time in the present.

Sex Maniac Sought In Brutal Murder Of Kalamazoo Coed

KALAMAZOO, Mich.—(P)—Pretty Carolyn Drown's diary was examined today for a possible lead to the man who ravished and killed her.

Within its green-inked pages, some of which contained pathetic notes of young love, police looked for a clue.

One of 12 men named in the diary as "recent dates" was sought Sheriff Otto K. Buder refused to disclose his identity.

Girl, 14, Escapes
Friends have described Carolyn as a girl of estimable habits. Authorities have agreed that her death was the work of a sex maniac.

Pointing up the investigation of the Western Michigan college coed's slaying was a newly reported suspected sex attack in the southwestern Michigan area.

At St. Joseph, recent scene of a housewife's slaying and an assault on a second woman, a 14-year-old girl escaped an assailant last night.

A large force of police began an immediate search for a "big man" wearing a jacket.

The girl, Nancy Reed, said the

Recount Of Delta Votes Opens Tomorrow Morning

Following a meeting today and a discussion of procedures, the recount of the Kelly-Williams vote in Delta county will start at 10 a. m. tomorrow in the court house at Escanaba.

The Delta board of canvassers officially reported the vote in the Nov. 7 election as 6,563 for Williams and 5,349 for Kelly.

The recount in Michigan has been asked by Kelly, who polled 1,154 fewer votes than Williams in the state.

Will Guard Ballots Starting at 10 a. m. and continuing to 12 noon, the canvassing board will return at 2 p. m. and work until 6 p. m. This schedule of hours will be maintained until the recount is completed.

The ballot boxes will be brought to the court house by the Michigan state police and will be kept under 24-hour guard by those officers and possibly with the assistance of sheriff's officers.

First precincts scheduled to be counted are the ballots from Escanaba Precincts No. 1, 2 and 3.

Not only the ballot boxes but the poll lists and the voters registration records from each precinct also will be made available to the canvassing board.

Canvassers in Charge How long the recount will take could not at this time be estimated, canvassing officials said. Progress will depend in a large degree on the number of challenges of ballots made by representatives of the Republican and Democratic parties who will be present.

The Delta board of canvassers will be in charge of the recount and the figures they certify to the state board of canvassers will be deemed to be correct.

The board is composed of John Wolf, Escanaba, chairman, J. F.

Richardson, Gladstone, and Walter Deloria of Garden. Miss Mary Constantineau, deputy county clerk, is clerk of the canvassing board.

Atty. Yelland To Rule Under the procedure outlined today the board of canvassers will begin the tally and count of the votes for governor in Delta county, with representatives of Democratic and Republican parties present.

If a representative of one of the parties challenges a ballot for any reason, that ballot will be passed to another table, where it will be studied and its validity debated.

Atty. Harlan Yelland, appointed to represent the State Board of Canvassers at the recount, will consider the arguments and rule on whether the challenged ballot shall be counted.

The challenged ballots will be kept separate from the others and, together with a transcript of the reasons for challenge and the defense of the ballot, complete a record for the state board of canvassers.

Party Representatives Selection of a stenographer to record the proceedings of the recount had not been made to noon today. Both Republicans and Democrats placed names of stenographers before the board for consideration.

Representing the Democrats at the recount will be Gerald Cleary, Delta Democratic committee chairman, James Coon, James Doran, Edward Gibbs, Atty. Clyde McGonagle and Einar Erlandsen. The Republicans named Atty.

Plan Baskets For Christmas

American Legion To Sponsor Project

The American Legion again this year is sponsoring a project to provide Christmas baskets to distressed and needy World War veterans and their dependants.

It was announced today by William J. Henderson, commander of Cloverland Post No. 32, Escanaba.

For the past 20 years the Legion has sponsored the project to brighten Christmas for the veterans in unfortunate condition and to their families.

C. Elmer Olson has been appointed by Commander Henderson as chairman of the Christmas basket committee. Olson will name his committee to carry out the work of preparing and distributing the baskets. The committee appointments will be completed within a few days, Olson said.

Baskets will not only be prepared and presented to the needy veterans and their families in Delta county, but also to veterans from this county who are hospitalized at St. Francis hospital, Pinecrest sanatorium at Powers, and the Veterans hospital at Iron Mountain, Wood, Wis., and Hines, Ill.

This remembrance of the veterans and their dependants at Christmas time is described by Commander Henderson as typifying the Christmas spirit, when holiday baskets carry a message of cheer to those less fortunate.

Arrangements for the Christmas program will be completed soon and the names of the committee members and other details will be announced, said Commander Henderson.

New Controls Put On Lumber

Lumbermen Discuss War Regulations

Abbott M. Fox, of Iron Mountain, member of the federal defense board, and H. B. McDermott, secretary of the Wisconsin Retail Lumbermen's association, spoke on new controls brought about by the Korean crisis, before the Cloverland Retail Lumber Dealers' association in a luncheon meeting at the Dickinson hotel in Iron Mountain Saturday afternoon.

McDermott talked on regulations "W" and "X" dealing with revised credit controls on building and other household commodities, and Fox explained the work of the organization to which he was recently appointed.

Another speaker was John Hamar, of Houghton, director of the National Retail Lumbermen's association.

Art J. Pavlish, of Iron River, president of the Cloverland association, conducted the business meeting. Plans for the annual summer session to be held in the Iron River district were discussed.

Vote To Gather Air Mail Data

Aviation Meeting Held In Marquette

The aviation conference, sponsored by the Upper Peninsula Development Bureau at Marquette yesterday afternoon, adopted a resolution urging the collection of information to convince the Civil Aeronautics Board that air mail service is needed between the two Michigan peninsulas.

Only about ten persons attended the Marquette meeting. The Escanaba Chamber of Commerce was represented by Atty. Dennis McGinn, Fred Schmidt and Hugh Grow.

Francis J. Higgins of Madison, president of the Wisconsin Central Airlines, attended the meeting, but Nationwide Airlines was not represented. Telegrams were received, however, from Lester Maitland, state director of aeronautics, and the Chambers of Commerce of Iron Mountain and Houghton, commending Nationwide Airlines for the air service it has been providing from Detroit-Lansing to the Upper Peninsula.

A statement from Robert G. Murphy, chairman of the air transportation committee of the Menominee Chamber of Commerce, was read at the conference. Murphy protested the calling of the conference on the grounds that it would disrupt the groundwork already done by the Upper Peninsula Air Transportation committee.

George E. Bishop, secretary-manager of the Upper Peninsula Development Bureau, opened the meeting with an address, in which he pointed out that the meeting was not intended to support any particular airline. He said its purpose was to obtain assurance that two Michigan peninsulas would get regular air mail service.

Recount Under Way In Alger County

MUNISING — Alger county's role in the statewide recount of votes cast in the November election for the office of governor, got underway Monday when Sheriff Art Moote and members of the State Police picked up the ballot boxes from each of the several precincts and delivered some to John P. Carr, county clerk, who placed them in his vault. Upon delivery, a night and day guard, consisting of State Police and members of the sheriff's department, went on duty for the duration of the recount. This procedure was taken by authority and instructions from the State Board of Canvassers.

The actual recount began Tuesday morning by the County Board of Canvassers, which is made up of C. R. Little, Tremay, George McKenzie, Munising, and Frank Debiak. Trautke, under the supervision of R. W. Nebel, who has been appointed assistant attorney general for that purpose by Stephen J. Roth, Michigan's attorney general. Mr. Nebel was nominated for the post by the Michigan Bar association. He will represent both Attorney General Roth and the State Board of Canvassers. One such supervisor has been named for each of the several U. P. counties. As such, a supervisor is delegated with the authority to pass on any and all disputed questions.

This assignment will not be new to Mr. Nebel, who participated in the extended recount held in Lansing in 1932, when a determination was asked of the question of who won the primary nomination for governor on the Republican ticket. The contest was between Alex J. Groesbeck and Wilbur M. Brucker. The latter was declared the winner. Mr. Nebel was Commissioner of Pardons and Paroles at the time. He has also acted as counsel in local recounts.

The recount is being held in the main court room at the Alger county court house and its sessions are open to the public.

RANCH HOUSE — This is the interior of the Northern Chinchilla Ranch located on US-2, near Hyde. Mrs. Robert J. Wilkinson is shown holding one of the chinchillas.

Robert Wilsons Have Modern Chinchilla Ranch

Robert J. Wilkinson, owner and manager of the Northern Chinchilla Ranch, recently moved his ranch from Menominee county to his new location in Delta county, about five miles southwest of Escanaba on US 2.

The new ranch is a modern insulated 36 by 26 foot building finished with varnished western red cedar, log effect. It has an automatic ventilation system which keeps the interior at 60 degrees. The building will accommodate approximately two hundred animals.

Began Five Years Ago
Mr. Wilkinson started in the chinchilla business about five years ago with one young, bred pair purchased from the Michigan Chinchilla Ranch in Pontiac.

For about a year Mr. Wilkinson acted as Upper Peninsula and Wisconsin agent for the Pontiac Ranch, later becoming agent for Jake DeKorse of Grosse Pointe, Mr. DeKorse, at that time, had the oldest and largest chinchilla ranch in the entire Midwest and at one time had two hundred and fifty animals. Much of his stock has been distributed throughout Wisconsin and Northern Michigan by Mr. Wilkinson.

Mrs. Wilkinson helps her husband care for and exhibit the animals and has a name for each one. They are now experimenting with line breeding. They have been members of the National Chinchilla Breeders association since it was organized in Michigan.

Little Pelting Done
So far, there has been little pelting of chinchillas throughout the country. Most of the animals pelted were casualty pelts as most every rancher is building up his herd for future breeding stock.

The chinchilla is a clean, odorless animal, a vegetarian and very inexpensive to feed. Pellets, timothy hay, and a balanced ration of oats, flaxseed, calcium, cornmeal and pabulum, keep this small animal healthy.

Santa Fe Oldster, 91, Fake 'Billy The Kid'

SANTA FE, N. M. — (AP) — Gov. Thomas Mabry put an end to the latest Billy the Kid controversy.

The chief executive said he was convinced 91-year-old Ollie Henry Roberts, who claimed to be the notorious New Mexico outlaw and asked a full pardon for his crimes, was a fake.

After a 45-minute interview with the old man, the governor sided with historians who hold the kid was shot to death in a gunfight with Sheriff Pat Garrett at Fort Sumner, N. M., in 1881.

Roberts could not recall details of many incidents in the outlaw's life, where they happened and who was involved. Many of these were remembered clearly by other oldtimers who sat in on the talk.

Earles Logging In Vega Area

Tract Of Virgin Timber To Be Cut

Some of the last virgin timber owned by the Wisconsin Land & Lumber company at Vega, north of Hermansville, today was being felled by Elmer Johnson & Sons, Hermansville loggers, who have contracted to cut about a half-million feet, it was reported by G. Harold Earle, president of Wisconsin Land & Lumber company of Hermansville.

The land on which the timber stands has been owned by the Earle family for nearly 70 years and was acquired in 1881-83 by Earle's grandfather, C. J. L. Meyer, after whom Meyer (Hermansville) township is named.

Earle also reported that the Wm. Ahearn company, which has been occupying part of the W. L. & L. former flooring mill building is expanding operations and will take over all available space on both floors not needed by the lumber company. The Ahearn company manufactures pallets, for loading equipment and plywood separators for shell cases.

Earle said the logging operations will be a phase of a wholesale lumber distribution center project at Hermansville in which green lumber will be saved or purchased, graded, kiln-dried, etc. at Hermansville and then sold in carload lots. The company plans to purchase lumber from both small and large sawmill operators and do the finishing at Hermansville.

condition. What other luxury fur can compete? With 70 hairs to a pore, the chinchilla has a strong, long lasting, luxurious pelt which is surely the ultimate in smart fur.

Movies Stars Have Them
According to the chinchilla breeders throughout the country it will be a least five years before there are large enough herds to insure the pelting of even a small number of animals.

Rita Hayworth recently acquired a chinchilla coat valued at $5,000. Gloria Swanson in her comeback picture used her own personally owned chinchilla coat in one scene. Helen Hayes wears chinchilla in her new stage hit, Lily Pons also owns a beautiful coat. But it will be some years before the supply even comes close to the demand. So if you are thinking in the terms of chinchilla, the answer is, raise your own coat!

Native Of Andes
It is the only fur bearing animal whose pelt cannot be duplicated by some wild animal. Most of the 100,000 to 125,000 chinchillas in the United States are descendants of the eleven animals brought into this country from the Andes mountains in South America by a mining engineer named Chapman. He had to obtain special permission from the South American government before he could export them to this country.

For many years previous the Indians trapped the chinchilla and sold the pelts to the European market. Garments for royalty were fashioned from these pelts and handed down from generation to generation. Continuous trapping by Indians finally depleted the chinchilla herds and the South American government stepped in and passed a law protecting the few animals left.

Chinchilla garments must be very durable because today there are garments available that are over forty years old and in good condition.

Korean War And Inflation Are Threats To Water Project

ESCANABA voters have approved a bond issue for construction of a new water filtration plant, detailed plans and drawings for the structure have been completed and there is general expectation that the project will get under way early in the spring. Feb. 15 has been fixed as a date for opening construction bids.

Unfortunately, some unfavorable circumstances have crept into the water plant project. One is the Korean war and the increased threat to world peace. Because of it, we are launched on a rearmament program that virtually puts the nation on a war economy. The growing shortages of civilian goods add further complications to the city's water plant project. And the most serious threat is inflation. Construction costs are rising and even now there is no assurance that a firm bid will be received, without an escalator clause, within the funds available to the city for the water plant project.

The status of the project will be clarified when the construction bids are received in February. Only then will it be known whether the city will be able to proceed with the construction of the plant.

On the bright side of the situation is the probability that the project would rate a high priority in allocation of critical materials because of its importance to public health.

Big Ore Season Likely In 1951

IN normal years from 20 to 25 million tons of iron ore are on hand at steel manufacturing centers on April 1, the date when shipping lanes usually are opened for the movement of ore on the Great Lakes. It is freely predicted that not more than 12 million tons will be carried over this winter.

On the basis of this estimate, the 1951 shipping season should be one of the largest in history and if favorable shipping conditions develop an all time record could be established.

This year's ore shipments on the lakes totalled slightly more than 77 million tons, compared with the peace-time record of 83 million tons in 1948. The 1950 shipments were considered excellent in view of the tardy opening of lake ports last spring and the early arrival of sub-zero weather this winter.

The predictions of an extremely busy season in 1951 provide welcome news to the Escanaba area.

A CHARMING HOUSE (Christian Science Monitor)

If you read the newspaper story of the 70th wedding anniversary on Long Island the other day you probably looked up from the phrase "the charming house" to the picture of the structure in which the celebrants had spent seven decades. It gave you no help in evaluating the phrase—but of course it was a charming house! People don't spend 70 years together in houses that are anything else.

The husband has lived there since he was six mischievous years old, the wife since she was sweet 18. And the memories they have—of the buggy he brought her home in, of the whistle-tree he designed, of the way they raced back from church in that buggy, of the times he tore down goal posts at games, of watching his father play checkers, of their Pierce-Arrow and their Haynes-Apperson that took the place of the buggy!

It's just the way a house can be made charming by a woman and a man. And maybe she had a few more memories, all her own, even if they didn't come out in the interview, except by implication and in the smile she turned on her husband as it closed.

Anyway, it was a charming house in the picture, no doubt about it, and of a sort not too hard to find if you look for it on a two-way street.

Questions and Answers

Q—Are there locks in the Suez Canal?
A—This canal is at sea level and contains no locks. It is 103 miles in length and connects the Mediterranean with the Red Sea.

Q—When was the Lee Mansion at Arlington Cemetery built?
A—In 1802. The Lee Mansion or Arlington House was the home of George Washington Parke Custis.

Q—Is China the only country bordering Korea?
A—The Soviet Union also borders Korea for about 20 miles between China and the Sea of Japan.

Q—Do other countries besides ours have A—Yes—many foreign cities are erecting buildings of 300 feet and over in height. This is especially true in Argentina, Brazil and Canada.

Q—Where is the shortest railroad tunnel in this country?
A—It's the Bee Rock Tunnel, 30 feet in length, near Appalachia, Va. It is said to be the smallest in the world.

Free Nations Must Remain United

THIS is a time for the free nations of the world to stand up and be counted. It is a new and great test of their moral fiber than the one they met so well at the outbreak of the Korean war.

Red China's intervention in Korea is tending to divide the western powers. France and Britain, pre-occupied with their own vulnerability to attack by Russia, are not anxious to see the United States and its helpers tied up in a long war with the Communist Chinese.

Leon Dennen, foreign correspondent for NEA, reported in a recent dispatch that a split in the North Atlantic front is exactly what the Kremlin is striving for. Once the unity of the West should go, Russia would feel free to move more boldly in its course of conquest.

If, as seems likely, this is indeed the Soviet aim, the free nations must guard desperately against a break in ranks. This is no moment for division, for timidity, for concentration upon individual national weakness.

The Communists respect only strength and force. Where they do not meet it, they push in. The free world has the might to resist their further encroachment; but only when all its members combine in a solid front.

It is not too late to avert disaster for freedom, despite the counsels of despair heard in many quarters. The liberty-loving peoples of the earth can save their heritage if they will jointly resolve to do so, and proceed with utmost speed to carry out programs which must stem automatically from that resolve.

If any are really too weak or fearful to engage in this great enterprise, it is better that we know it now rather than count upon help we won't get.

At root this crisis is a moral one. Do people who have known real freedom prize it enough to fight for it if necessary? Or are they so beaten down by repeated wars and endless economic distress that they are content merely to live, however ignobly?

Each country must answer these questions with a clear "yes" or "no." A "maybe" isn't good enough. We need to know who is lined up on our side in this struggle.

And once the choice is made we must all face promptly and realistically the task of defending the free portions of the earth. Some crucial, fateful decisions lie ahead. The biggest is how to balance our strength between Europe and Asia. But they cannot be made with sureness until we have learned the names on the roster of freedom.

Potomac Fever

NOBODY really expects the short closing session of the 81st Congress to accomplish much. Some emergency defense appropriations, perhaps new aid to stricken Yugoslavia, but little else.

We suspect the real purpose of this meeting is to allow the defeated lawmakers, the ones who won't be back in January, to look for new jobs in Washington.

Naturally a lot of them will go home and stay there. But plenty won't. Washington gets in the blood, like Hollywood. The place already is overrun with former congressmen.

As with Hollywood in the entertainment world, so with Washington in the realm of big events. Many legislators just can't face the relative quiet of home after they've known the capital's atmosphere of marching history. They open law offices, do lobbying work and numerous other jobs tied in some way to federal government activity.

Years ago a magazine writer summed it up perfectly when he said: "They never go back to Potomac."

New Furniture

By Gordon Martin

Comes the time that every man should take a look around the house, for there's bound to be some changes by his ever-loving spouse. After years in which the furniture has served you very well, she's decided that it's junk and that the time has come to sell. She declares she has a plan to make your domicile a dream, and new furnishings are needed for the decorative scheme.

As you sit in solid comfort in your battered easy chair, she discusses types of furniture in manner debonair. She's not sure she wants it modern—maybe Tudor would be best, and she surely has a load of information on her chest. Styles of all the many periods—Queen Anne and Chippendale, and you know you're sunk because she says some largains are on sale.

You're resigned to all her planning and to furniture that's new though you think the things you've always had are good enough for you. But before the decorators come, you chair you have to save, for it fits you like a glove with all the comfort that you crave. So you hide it in the cellar and you let her do her worst, but that chair is yours forever and the one you'll sit in first.

MARTIN

Merry-Go-Round

By DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON—It was partly a fluke that led to the Attlee-Truman conversation—one of the most important conferences since Potsdam. Regardless of the accidental inception, however, diplomats agree that the conversation has long been needed to bring greater synchronization of traditional British-American friendship.

The fluke was the president's off-the-cuff statement that we were considering dropping the atomic bomb and the inference that General MacArthur had been given a free hand as to when we should drop it.

The statement, made at a morning White House press conference, hit the British House of Commons late in the afternoon and left British Labor leaders gasping. They have had increasing misgivings about MacArthur, and were fully aware of the manner in which he had maneuvered around state department proposals to keep U. N. armies away from the Chinese dams and the Manchurian border.

British Labor leaders did not then know that the president had made his atom-bomb statement in reply to oral newspaper queries and that it was not a carefully considered statement. Finally, they did not know that the president was in the process of issuing a clarifying statement—which came three hours later.

BRITISH LABOR REBELS

By accident, it happened that the Truman A-bomb statement hit the House of Commons during a major foreign policy debate, with 630 Labor members led by Tom Driberg and Ian Mikardo, of Labor's national executive body, proposing high level conferences between the East and West before taking any further decisions on Korea.

Simultaneously came a speech by Anthony Eden demanding conferences between London and Washington, plus a London Daily Mail editorial goading Attlee with the taunt that Churchill would have been half-way across the Atlantic were he prime minister.

It was in this atmosphere of extreme criticism from both Conservatives and Labor that Prime Minister Attlee was shown the first Truman statement indicating that the dropping of the A-bomb was up to MacArthur. At this, about 100 Conservative members of Parliament left the chamber and signed a petition to Churchill stating that if the United States dropped the bomb Britain should pull out of Korea.

These are some of the factors behind Attlee's trip which he wanted to put before Truman.

Note—Three hours after the first Truman statement on the A-bomb, came a clarifying White House statement that under the law only the president can authorize use of the atomic bomb and that no such authorization had been given to MacArthur.

COFFEE AND DEFENSE

It may seem a long way between a coffee investigation staged by a senator from Iowa and this country's preparedness for war; yet there's a connection just the same.

The Senate investigation, staged by silver-crested, likeable Guy Gillette of Iowa, delved into increased coffee prices and speculation. Insofar as it dealt with coffee manipulation by the big chain grocery stores and the New York commodity market, the probe was justified. However, when it blamed Latin American coffee growers for price increases, it was like blaming Iowa corn farmers for the increased price of corn.

Thus the injustice of Gillette's probe, which made headlines in Latin America, was the biggest break the Communists ever had south of the Rio Grande. It also turned millions of hitherto friendly Latin American coffee growers, like the farmer of Iowa, Kansas and Nebraska, had suffered extremely lean years prior to the war. And the chief reason for increased coffee prices was identical with the reason for the increased price of American meat, corn, wheat and cotton—namely, that the world is consuming more.

Anyway, the state department, aghast at the harm done our good neighbor policy by the Gillette coffee probe, placed all the facts before the Senate committee. Forthright Assistant Secretary Edward Miller warned that Gillette was playing into Communist hands, while farsighted Senator Clinton Anderson of New Mexico did his best to put the quietus on his colleague from Iowa.

PRONUNCIATION CLINIC

Recently I pointed out here that in the all but universal pronunciation of the word February, the first "r" is not sounded, the customary pronunciation being FEB-yoo-ary. I stated that the pronunciation with the "r" sounded—FEB-roo-ary—seldom occurs in Standard American speech.

My readers generally applauded this as accurate and realistic reporting. A few, however, raised pious cries and accused me of debasing the language, of teaching slovenly pronunciations, of encouraging common usage, etc. One school teacher sternly called my attention to the "r" in the second syllable of February, " . . . the 'r' is there; it is disgraceful to leave it out," she declared.

There are tens of thousands of such words and names in our language. What of the "l" in such words as talk, folk, Polk? What of the "ps" in corps, the "th" in asthma, the "gh" in such words as brought, fight, the first "l" in colonel, the "g" in champagne, the "h" of such words as hour, honor, the "p" of pneumonia, pneumatic, the "ree" of Worcester, the "i" of Chevrolet and depot, the "p" of coup, the "ph" of phthisis (pronounced THY-sis)?

From Here On, and How Far?

Diplomat McFall Has Tough Job Of Shining Up To Congressmen

By BRUCE BIOSAT
NEA Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON—(NEA)—Assistant Secretary of State Jack McFall looks like a diplomat, but he talks like a hard-punching businessman. Since early 1949, he's been acting like one of the breed, too, stirring a small revolution within the hallowed halls in Washington's Foggy Bottom section.

It's been his job to shine up relations between the State Department and Congress. No soft task. For years the average lawmaker has seen department men as tea-drinking "striped pants boys" toiling in a place as remote and forbidding as an outpost in the Belgian Congo.

The husky, 45-year-old McFall seems well-fitted to convince the legislators otherwise. Note the equipment: warm baritone voice, easy friendliness, pipe, and not too closely clipped mustache. Besides, he knows congressional foibles well. He worked 14 years as a staff member of the key House Appropriations Committee.

McFall's efforts haven't had too much to do with Secretary of State Acheson's own difficulties on Capitol Hill. That's another story. McFall is tackling the problem at the workaday level where there are countless contacts between the department and the lawmakers.

When he took over in January, 1949, he found these links sadly neglected. Besieged by their constituents about world issues, legislators were looking to the department for more and more information. They met with irritating delays, vague answers, sometimes a blank wall. Few ever saw a department official of any rank.

Says McFall: "Our fellows stayed up here in an ivory tower. The word was: 'Don't go up to the Hill if you can avoid it. If you must, come back as quick as you can.'"

McFall ripped into the problem this way:

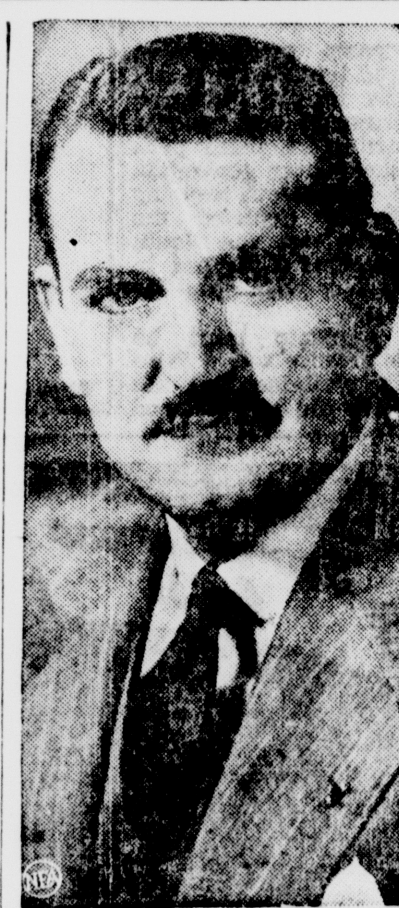

1. He cut from 14 days to three the time required to answer the average congressional letter. Of the 50 that stream in each day, he replies to all but top policy queries himself. Acheson handles those.

2. To cope with the 30 to 70 telephone calls coming in daily, he set up a clearance board presided over by a veteran department woman with some knowledge of Congress. She takes all calls from there, promises help, hangs up, dies around for the man with the right answer, and has him call the inquirer back promptly. So here's one place the legislator doesn't encounter the standard Washington telephone merry-go-round.

3. About 170 congressmen went overseas on junkets in 1949. McFall sent either an assistant secretary or some other ranking official to see every one of them and get their views. It took three months, but it made a lot of hay for the department.

4. He also advises every foreign service man who returns from abroad to go see both senators from his home state and exchange ideas and experiences.

5. He has increased information on the ground and in the air. He has sent more men to the front lines, and has increased his contacts with the armed forces, and has increased his contacts with the defense department policies and what's behind them. There were luncheons with smaller groups, too, and later on similar parties for senators' administrative aides, the forgotten workhorses of Capitol Hill.

McFall is convinced these meetings were a success. After one big blow a lawmaker told him: "If I haven't learned another thing, I've found out that the State Department employs a lot of real, red-blooded Americans."

McFall classifies all this effort as department "service." He's also

McFall classifies all this effort as department "service." He's also waded into another ancient congressional complaint—that the department never consults the Hill until after it has announced its policies.

On this the ball was tossed to the other side. Senator Connally, chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, created eight special sub-committees with three members each. They corresponded to major divisions within the department. Under the "Connally plan" these groups are to confer with department officials from the respective sections whenever legislation bearing on their geographic area is due.

"It was tough to achieve," says McFall, "but we finally got our fellows to go up and talk to people on the Hill BEFORE they'd made a decision. Now when they meet, department men lay out the alternatives, point to the one they're leaning toward, and invite criticism and comment."

"That way, even if the department view ultimately becomes the policy, the men up there feel better about it. They've had their day in court, and know their ideas have been fairly considered."

This plan's been adopted by the House Foreign Affairs Committee, too. One group met five times in six weeks this year.

Are these tactics paying off? McFall believes the proof is in the fact that the department's 1950 legislative program went through Congress with only minor hitches despite the terrific assaults upon Acheson at the highest levels. As for the future:

"We'll continue what we've been doing. It takes time to build round relations when they've been neglected so long. A lot will depend on what sort of an attitude the new Congress takes toward our efforts. We'll just have to wait and see."

There's a widespread feeling, this time, that we play for keeps.

By CLINT DUNATHAN

LAMPREY BLIGHT—Without discounting the damage done to Great Lakes fish by the sea lamprey, there is increasing evidence that the lamprey is not the root of all fishing evil, as once believed.

The complaints against the lamprey began several years ago. And as late as last year Nation's Business, after an exhaustive investigation, reported: "It's wipe out the lamprey or go broke."

During the period of lamprey alarm and to the present, the evidence in connection with the damage done by the parasite is confusing.

While a clear-cut case can be made against the lamprey for its acknowledged attacks on Great Lakes fish, particularly trout, there is equally conclusive proof that commercial fishing has not been ruined thereby.

THE MYSTERY—At St. Ignace, fishing ceter of the Straits area and the adjacent waters of Lake Michigan and Lake Huron, commercial fishermen have had several lean years. Trout and whitefish have been almost nonexistent.

Yet in Canadian waters of Lake Huron, less than 100 miles distant from St. Ignace, excellent catches of both trout and whitefish are being made. Farther along the Canadian shore of Lake Huron the fishing continues good compared to poor on the west side of the lake in Michigan waters.

What is the reason for good fishing in Canadian waters, and poor fishing in U. S. waters in the same lake?

Fishermen have always claimed the lamprey would follow the trout and injure or destroy the last one. There is nothing to prevent the lamprey from entering Canadian waters.

St. Ignace fishermen explain it only with the assumption that Canada's policy of operating fish hatcheries and restocking Canadian waters makes the difference there. The lamprey is there, but restocking maintains the fish population, they say.

CONTRADICTION—It was only a couple years ago that commercial fishermen began reporting the lamprey was killing off the walleyes in the Saginaw Bay area.

True, the walleye production declined until it is practically nonexistent there today.

Meanwhile the take of walleyes in the Green Bay area began zooming upward, despite the presence of lampreys. This year walleye production on Green Bay will go above last year's record-breaking 1,000,000 pounds.

If the lamprey cleaned out the walleyes in Saginaw Bay, why didn't that also happen in Green Bay? Now the consensus is that it was pollution, not the lamprey, that decimated the walleyes at Saginaw.

GOING UP—And despite the undisputed presence of lampreys in the Green Bay area, other fish are making a strong comeback here—to the satisfaction of all concerned.

This year the herring run began early and has been better than last year. Smelt are numerous and a bumper crop is expected to be harvested by commercial fishermen this coming winter and next spring.

AND DOWN—To meet the requests of the fishermen, Congress a year ago appropriated funds to finance a study aimed toward control of the lamprey on the Great Lakes. A floating laboratory is being established.

Meanwhile there are scattered reports that lake trout are reappearing in small numbers where they have been virtually absent for several years. In some sections, whitefish, also on the downgrade, are making a minor comeback.

The only possible conclusion is that the problem of Great Lakes fisheries has never been fully studied or completely understood. The conflicting evidence supports a growing belief that the lamprey, although destructive, is a new but not necessarily final element in the problem of maintaining the Great Lakes fish supply.

Korean War Has Placed America In Tough Spot

By MARQUIS CHILDS

WASHINGTON—As the Korean tragedy unfolds, it becomes apparent that the political vise in which the United States is caught is almost as rigid as the military one. The next few days will determine how much can be salvaged politically and diplomatically as well as militarily.

What Western European diplomats are saying privately is far more explosive than what they are saying publicly or even that the criticism contained in the press of their respective countries. In essence it comes down to this: The United States must make efforts going much further than any that have yet been indicated to avoid the disaster of an impossible and endless war on the Chinese mainland with millions of Chinese soldiers trained and experienced in Guerilla warfare and moved by a fierce fanaticism. If such a war results from the present debate, then all hope of saving Western Europe will be ended.

Chinese Reds Adamant

The degree of maneuverability left in the United Nations is small. It is highly doubtful that Western European nations would support a Korean resolution stronger than that vetoed in the security council by Soviet Russia. And that resolution, calling on the Communist Chinese to withdraw, is now more or less meaningless.

The first reaction of many delegates to the violent and even-tempered attack delivered by General Wu Hsin Chuan, head of the Red delegation, was one of almost fatalistic hopelessness. It seemed to shut the door on all Western cooperation, offering a choice between getting out of Asia entirely or fighting endlessly against terrible odds.

Even the Indian delegation is said to have reacted in the first instance with the belief that all hope in negotiation was over. Those long accustomed to U. N. venom were startled by the vitriolic nature of the hatred which Wu sprayed at his audience.

Over the weekend a faint flicker of hope has revived. In part, it comes out of the talk which WU had with Sir Benegal Rau, head of the Indian delegation. In the course of that talk, which was friendly and polite on the surface at least, WU intimated that nothing could be expected so long as Communist China was outside the U. N.

U. S. Position Weak

This is indeed a faint ray of light in a very dark sky. How Communist China could be admitted in view of what has happened is hard to see. Yet the fact remains that in view of the military situation, America's bargaining position is far from strong.

One thing this slight hope suggests is the need to use every avenue of mediation. Prime Minister Jawaharlal Nehru should be invited at once to come to Washington to participate in the talks with President Truman and Prime Minister Attlee. I feel certain he would respond to such an invitation by flying here as quickly as possible.

By his counsel and his presence, Nehru would contribute to a settlement if settlement is still possible. Too often in the past the Indians have not been consulted on major policy decisions directly affecting Asia. And our ambassador in New Delhi, Loy Henderson, has several times been embarrassed to discover that the British had confided in Nehru an issue previously referred to London.

Military Situation

As to the military side, the only resource not yet tried is to bomb across the North Korean border in Manchuria. It is technically correct to say that General MacArthur never formally requested permission to attack in Manchuria prior to the final and fateful offensive intended to take the last area of North Korea up to the border, but in his telegrams to the Pentagon he plainly implied that if he could not bomb Manchurian concentrations, he would find it difficult to bring the war to a successful conclusion.

If it is now true that there are 600,000 Chinese in Korea, then the time for bombing in Manchuria may have passed. Bombings would now be concentrated on the immediate threat U. N. armies face from Red troops actually in Korea. But whether bombing can be effective against the kind of mass infiltration practiced by the Chinese, with their limited supply line, is doubtful, and this doubt applies also to the tactical use of the atom bomb.

What President Truman said about the popularity of generals when they are winning battles and the decline in their fortunes when they are losing is a sobering truth. Yet after this has been said, it is necessary to consider certain failures and, above all, the failure of intelligence in Korea.

Many people in Washington, including several European diplomats, know of the overall intelligence report on Korea prepared by the central intelligence agency. The CIA report took a very grim foreboding view of the numbers and the intention of the Communist Chinese in Korea. Completed on November 21, it was available to MacArthur's staff before the offensive was launched.

At the very least, the proper committees of congress are entitled to know whether this report was considered and, if it was considered, why the information it contained was ignored. For the rest, there is faith and prayer in one of the darkest hours in our history.

EHS Instructor Gets Draft Call

James Buelow Leaves Dec. 8

James Robert Buelow, 22, mathematics instructor and assistant coach at Escanaba Senior high school, will leave the faculty Dec. 8, to respond to a selective service call.

Buelow, a graduate of Central State Teachers college in Stevens Point, Wis., reports to Fort Sheridan, Ill. Dec. 14. He has been on the faculty of EHS since Sept., 1949, following graduation from college.

The Escanaba teacher, first in the system to be called in the armed forces, taught algebra, trigonometry, solid geometry and functional mathematics. He served on the football coaching staff here and was tennis coach.

His successor has not been appointed yet.

Movies Injured By Television But Won't Give Up

HOLLYWOOD—(P)—Movie attendance is off 10 to 15 per cent in television areas, says theater magnate Charles Skouras.

As a result, theaters fighting for their very existence "very soon" will offer programs combining "a good feature picture and television entertainment," he predicts.

Until now, theater men have been shy about public statements concerning TV's inroads on theater attendance. But Skouras, president of the 500-house National Theater chain, made a surprisingly frank declaration before a meeting of the Hollywood foreign correspondents association yesterday.

Chicago Business Bad

"Our business has been hurt badly in areas of television reception," he said. "Our New York business has been very bad, our Chicago business has been very bad and our business in Southern California has been very bad. "Attendance is off anywhere from 10 to 15 per cent in television areas. Business is off only two to four per cent in areas without television. So we know where to put the blame."

Skouras emphasized that "television is here to stay" and that it is giving "terrific competition to motion pictures."

"It stands to reason that if you have a movie at home, you are going to stay home," he remarked. But he added, "we are not going to give up."

The theater magnate traced Hollywood history. He said it took two years for movie bosses to realize the value of sound in films. He said that radio was feared and shunned by Hollywood until it discovered radio could be used to help sell stars and pictures.

Theaters To Use TV

"And I hope the motion picture producers will wake up to the fact that television can be used to publicize our pictures," he added.

Skouras also forces the use of television in theaters.

"I see the day coming when there will be television in every theater in the United States," he remarked. "People will go to the theaters to see a good feature picture and television entertainment." He predicted theater TV is coming "very soon," pending FCC approval.

The equipment will cost us a lot of money," he admitted, "but we have to fight for our existence."

Seek Data On Gas Appliances

City Will Conduct Survey By Mail

One-third of the city's gas customers, selected at random, will be mailed questionnaires as a means of determining the number of gas appliances in the city that will have to be converted for burning propane gas, City Manager A. V. Aronson reported this morning.

The questionnaires will be included in the bills mailed to every third gas customer, except commercial users. The questionnaires will include a stamped card for return to the city hall.

The information is needed in securing bids for the conversion of the city gas plant to propane gas. Customers receiving such cards are urged to provide the information and drop the cards in the mail. The cards are self-addressed.

Tired U. S. Troops Wonder Where Is Their Next Stop than two weeks ago was rolling northward within 50 miles of the Manchurian border.

Retreat Too Fast

There was no major contact reported with the Chinese. The Eighth army's retreat on wheels was too fast for the foot-slogging Chinese.

There was no indication as to where or when the Eighth army would make a stand. AP correspondent Leif Erickson, at Eighth army headquarters, suggested it might go all the way to the Seoul-Inchon area in South Korea, 165 road miles south of Pyongyang.

The Eighth army faced the mounting threat of a flanking move by Chinese swarming down the rugged and lightly defended center of the Korean peninsula.

Allied airmen reported hammering a 2,000-man concentration of Red Chinese Tuesday afternoon at Koksan, 50 miles south-east of Pyongyang.

Eighth army headquarters said this force posed a potential enveloping threat to Allied troops in the area. The Chinese force was only 35 miles from the retreat route of the Eighth army.

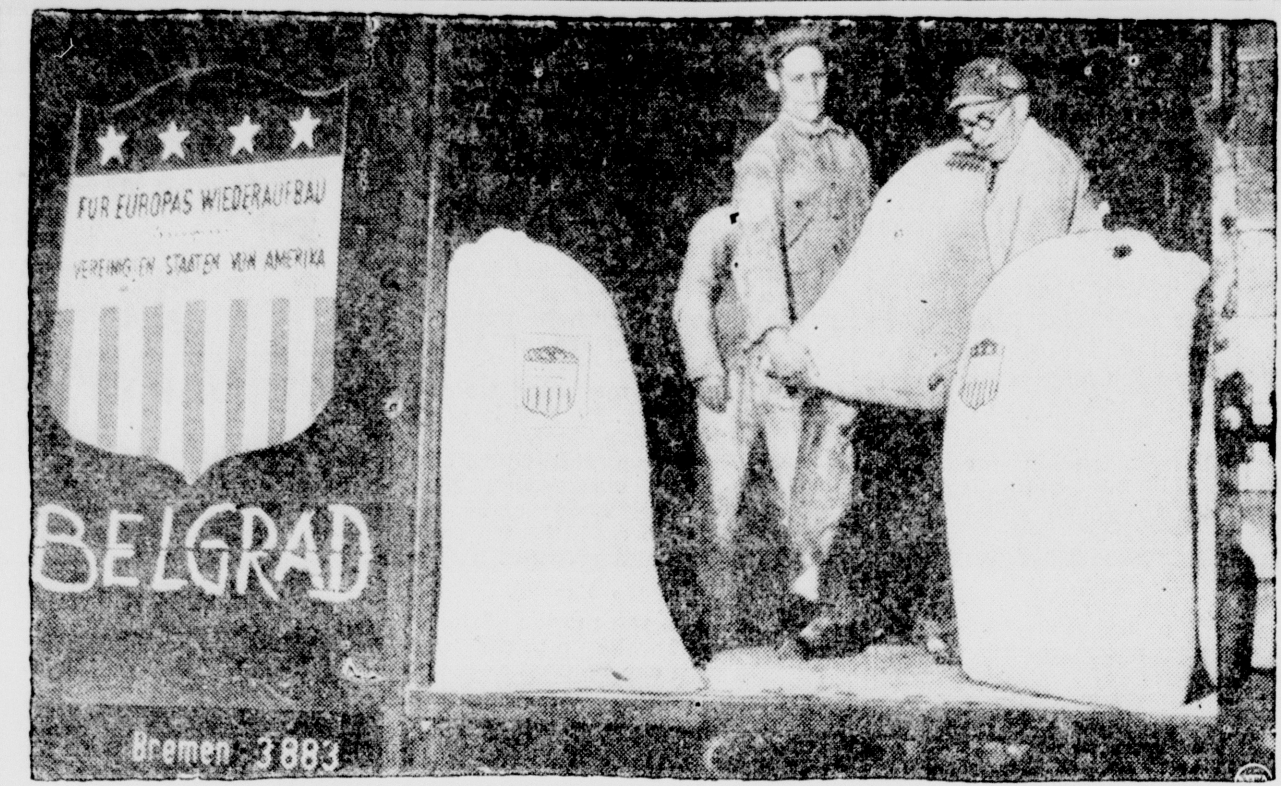

Guerrillas mounted harassing attacks for another 50 miles south of Koksan.

GERMAN FLOUR (PAID FOR BY UNCLE SAM) TO YUGOSLAVIA—At Mannheim, Germany, workmen load the first shipment of German flour to drought-stricken Yugoslavia. Each sack of flour—destined to save Yugoslavs from starvation during this winter—bears the inscription, "This flour was shipped by the German Federal Republic and paid for by the U. S. government." Secretary of State Dean Acheson has stressed the "absolute need" of American food relief to Yugoslavia if the country is to be kept free of Soviet control. Winter Gets Rough In Midwest; Floods Remain Big Menace

(By The Associated Press)

More rough wintry weather plagued the storm-battered east and midwest today. Floods also menaced many areas and they remained a threat in northern California.

The season's coldest weather was fanning out over the mid-continent. Frigid air extended over the northern plains and northern Rockies, sending temperatures to sub-zero levels. The severe cold was to continue through at least Wednesday, forecasters said.

The cold wave, headed eastward and southward, served to

Record For 1950 Is Best In History

LANSING — (AP)—Michigan racked up its best forest fire record in history in 1950, the state conservation department announced today.

The department forest fire chief, Milton M. Bergman, said that 339 fires blackened only 5,390 acres in the 33-week danger period.

This, he noted, is nearly 50 per cent fewer fires and about 75 per cent fewer acres burned than last year. The 1949 total was 21,108 acres burned by 1,624 fires.

The best previous record, however, was in 1941, when 10,463 acres were burned by 1,604 fires. Records go back to 1871, and indicate that in that year, two million acres were burned.

Bergman credited both the weather, increased public cooperation, efficient fire-fighting crews, and up-to-the-minute equipment with helping establish the new record.

CHICAGO GRAIN

CHICAGO—(AP)—Grains not away to a cautious start today at the Board of Trade. After the first flurry on overnight orders, many traders took to the sidelines.

Corn showed some independent strength on reports of light overnight export business. Prospects of heavy feeding during the developing cold wave and a firm cash market were trading influences. Today's estimated receipts were placed at 134 cars.

Oats made a little progress in light trading. Soybeans recovered from the opening slump on some short-covering and light commercial buying.

After a mixed start some buying attributed to mills pushed all wheat elevators to above yesterday's close.

During the first hour wheat was unchanged to 1/2 cent higher, December $2.91 1/2, and oats were unchanged to 1/2 cent higher, December $1.62 1/2, and lard was seven to ten hundredweight lower, January $17.72.

Property Loss High In Big Dallas Fire

DALLAS, Tex., — (AP) — A stubborn, wind-whipped fire caused high property damage today in the downtown Dallas business section.

Flames died in a two-story building at the corner of Main and Field streets after a three-hour fight. The building housed a sporting goods company, a mortgage loan company, a record shop and an upstairs private club.

At daybreak firemen still fought flames in the upper story of an adjoining two-story business building.

The blast was at the other end of a long block from the skyscraper Adolphus hotel. Many guests evacuated their smoke-filled rooms.

Retreats To Help Evacuate Korea, Says Gen. Bradley

WASHINGTON — (AP) — Gen. Omar N. Bradley was reported to have told senators today that withdrawals by United Nations troops now have made it possible to conduct the defense line in Korea.

Bradley, the nation's top military officer, testified on the world military situation at a closed-door meeting of the Senate Foreign Relations committee.

Some of those who heard him said the chairman of the joint chiefs of staff gave the senators a much more optimistic picture of the situation in Korea than they had heard at previous briefings.

One senator, who asked not to be quoted by name, said Bradley told the group that withdrawals of U. N. troops have put them in a position where they could be evacuated by sea if it becomes apparent that the Chinese Communists in overwhelming numbers intend to continue their attacks beyond Pyongyang and the 38th parallel.

Start Putting Up Light Wires

Xmas Fixtures To Be Lit This Week

Stringing of wires to light Manistique's 30 new Christmas lighting fixtures was scheduled to start this morning and be completed in about two days, it was announced yesterday by Fred Williams, superintendent of the Manistique Light and Power company.

The fixtures were installed by city workers over a month ago, but delay in receiving the necessary electric wiring has made it impossible for the light and power firm to complete the job.

The utility, which is contributing the work, is stringing primary wires on each side of the street in east and west side business districts, and feeder wires are being extended from the primary lines to each fixture. Illumination of the fixtures will be controlled by a time clock, Williams said. It is expected that they will be lit later this week.

Colored strings of lights with large central fixtures were strung on six business street intersections, three on each side of town, several days ago by city workers. Switches on nearby business buildings control the lighting of these fixtures.

Yule Traffic Warning Issued

Holiday Caution
Urged By Police

December, the gayest month of all, is also the deadliest.

This is the warning given by Sgt. N. H. Modders, commander of the Manistique post of the Michigan State Police, in a plea to pedestrians and drivers to be especially careful during the holiday season.

Pointing out that police agencies throughout the state are now carrying on a holiday traffic safety campaign, Sgt. Modders said:

"Traffic records show that the death toll in December is the heaviest of the year. Since 1945 more than 750 persons have been killed in December traffic accidents on Michigan streets and highways, and of those nearly 300 were pedestrians.

"Christmas shopping and other holiday activities bring more people out-of-doors. Added to this are longer periods of darkness, unfavorable weather conditions and an added tendency towards carelessness because we're thinking of other things.

"Don't spoil your Christmas and bring sorrow into your home because of a traffic accident. This season is supposed to be the happiest of the year. Keep it that way by walking and driving safely."

Meyer Now Slated To Stay As Manager At Pittsburgh

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla.—(AP)—The last undetermined managerial post in the major leagues is expected to be settled Thursday when Pittsburgh General Manager Branch Rickey and the incumbent pilot Bill Meyer meet here.

Indications are that the 57-year-old Meyer will be retained for the 1951 season at least, after which his three-year contract calling for $40,000 per annum is at an end.

The Pittsburgh managerial guessing game was the chief topic of conversation among the 2,000 baseball men meeting here at the 49th minor league convention.

There are three solid reasons to back up the probability that Meyer will be back for his fourth year at Pittsburgh despite a last place finish in 1950 and a sweeping change in the front office from ownership down.

Selkirk to Kansas City
Meyer has been told to leave his Knoxville, Tenn., home to meet with Rickey at St. Petersburg Thursday. Rickey is enroute here from New York. It was felt that you don't call a man hundreds of miles from home to tell him he is fired.

2—A New York Yankee official confided that Meyer was Kansas City's first choice to succeed Joe Kuhel as manager. When Kansas City became convinced that Meyer would remain at Pittsburgh, the Blues' post went to George Selkirk. The former Yankee outfielder, who led Birmingham to second place in the Eastern league last year, was officially named to the Kansas City post last night.

3—Rickey is loathe to pay Meyer $40,000 for not managing in addition to paying another man for doing the job. Meyer has an iron-bound contract stipulating that he be paid unless he quits. And Bill has no intention of doing that.

Meanwhile Louisville President Ed Dougherty said that Frank (Pinky) Higgins had been named manager of the Colonels to succeed Mike Ryba.

Ryba Meets Marion
Ryba is expected to take over the reins of the Columbus club left vacant by the resignation of Rolfe Hemsley.

Ryba, also is a candidate for a coaching job with the St. Louis Cardinals, was to confer today with Marty Marion, newly appointed Redbird skipper.

Other minor league managerial jobs reported filled but not officially announced are:

Benny Borgmann at Houston, Lombert (Dutch) Meyer at Dallas and Harry Craft at Birmingham.

Emeralds Face Tough Schedule This Week

MANISTIQUE—Coach Robert Hussey's Emeralds face a rugged weekend of basketball, with games at Gladstone and against powerful St. Joe five of Escanaba here.

Both the Manistique varsity and reserves will travel to Gladstone Friday night, and Saturday night they will entertain St. Joe's varsity and reserves here.

While not underestimating the Gladstone five, Coach Hussey is fully aware that his men are mixing in fast company Saturday night when Pete Kutches and crew from St. Joe come here. Last Friday night the Escanaba parochials trounced Gladstone, 59 to 40, while Manistique was eking out a close 43-39 victory over the Soo.

Iron River Awarded State Legion Finale

IRON RIVER—The Michigan American Legion Junior baseball champions will be crowned on the Iron River fairgrounds diamond early next August.

Awarding of the 1951 state tournament finals to Iron River was revealed by Guy M. Cox, National Legion committee member, who made the bid for the Iron River Alfred Brubaker post.

Silver Jubilee
"The Legion baseball committee unanimously awarded the 1951 finals to Iron River over a bid from Grand Rapids. The tournament will mark the silver jubilee of American Legion baseball," said Cox.

"The promotion of the tournament will be a joint effort by the Legion posts and communities of Iron River and Stambaugh, and the tournament will be conducted on diamonds in both cities.

"The tourney has never before in history been held above the Straits, and we want to make the meet a great success."

The Branchini post forwarded a letter to the baseball committee with a check for $300 enclosed as an indication of its willingness to help finance the championship tournament.

Five district champions, four from Lower Michigan and one from the U. P., will compete for the state crown in the tourney which will get under way Aug. 1. The national championship finals will be held in Detroit late in August, Cox said.

Escanaba represented the U. P. last year at Muskegon.

Big League Scouts
The state finals will draw about 100 players and eight coaches and managers, the cream of the crop of young stars in the sport.

Major league scouts keep an eagle eye on the state finals each year and from seven to 10 of the big league lookouts are expected to attend the meet here.

A big community booster banquet will be staged on the evening preceding the tournament.

Dressen was seen huddling with Red Corriden, lending credence to the rumor that the former White Sox manager would be named Dodger coach.

Among numerous baseball men here seeking jobs are Ben Chapman, Billy Herman, Joe Medwick, Earl Whitehill, Harry Walker, Harry Gumbert, Kirby Higbe, Hugh Poland, Wes Ferrell, Elmer Manush, Gus Mancuso and Johnny Beasley.

Both Boston and Philadelphia officials denied a report that they had discussed a trade involving Red Sox shortstop Vern Stephens and Athletics' southpaw Lou Brissie.

Wings Call Up New Defenseman

DETROIT —(AP)—Defenseman Dave Raglin will join the Detroit Red Wings tomorrow and will get his first taste of major league hockey.

Raglin was called up by the Wings from their Indianapolis farm in exchange for defenseman Marcel Pronovost.

The 23-year-old Raglin will join the Wings in time for tomorrow's National Hockey League clash at New York against the Rangers.

Pronovost, one of the Wings' top rookies last season, will report to Indianapolis tomorrow. Pronovost has not measured up to his expected form with the Wings this year and is being sent to Indianapolis for more work, Red Wings officials said.

After expenses met, the remainder will go to a Christmas toyshop fund.

Spilling The Dope

By Charlie Larson

Enough high school basketball games have been played in this area to give some indication of what to expect this year.

Needless to say, St. Joseph Trojans are the talk of the town . . . the smooth manner in which they have taken Escanaba and Gladstone indicates they will give their foes plenty of trouble this year . . . a doormat in football, the Trojans appear able to make up for things in basketball.

On the other hand, it may be a long, cold winter for Eskymo fans . . . the team showed improvement against Marquette despite the score . . . but it has a long way to go . . . defensively, in two games the Eskymos have given up 60 points a game to their opponents . . . and offensively, they haven't had much to offer.

Gladstone, at this stage, is a question mark . . . the Braves won easily from Bark River but were outclassed by St. Joseph . . . if Coach Eldon Keil can develop a couple strong players to support big Phil Creten, Gladstone will be tough by tournament time.

Nahna, Trenary, Perkins and Powers, with Rapid River a darkhorse, appear to be powers in the smaller schools of the area . . . Rock, Bark River, and Cooks just don't have it at stage of the game.

Like Gladstone, Manistique is a question mark . . . the Emeralds came through in its opener against the Soo . . . but the quality of Soo is untested . . . after this week-end, when Manistique plays Gladstone and St. Joseph, fans will have a better chance to appraise the Emeralds' real strength.

Elsewhere in the peninsula, Marquette and Ishpeming, as well as Negaunee, appear to have powerhouses. Stambaugh, too, has good possibilities. The Hilltoppers lost to both Ishpeming and Negaunee by one point margins.

Brimley, state champs in class D last year, appear to have plenty left this year . . . Coach Karl Parker's boys trounced Newberry, 57 to 43, in the opener.

It looks like an interesting year in basketball.

California Practice Schedule Announced

BERKELEY, Calif. — (AP)—The University of California Golden Bears will practice six days in San Bernardino's Orange bowl before meeting Michigan in the Rose bowl football game Jan. 1.

The Bears will gather at Arrowhead Hot Springs hotel six miles from San Bernardino Dec. 26. They stayed at Riverside preceding their last two trips to the Pasadena classic.

BOWL TEAM FLOPS
SHREVEPORT, La. — (AP)—The proposed Petroleum bowl football game has been abandoned after a second team turned down a bid to play. The game, scheduled here for Dec. 30, would have pitted Louisiana State university against Southern Methodist. SMU rejected a bid Saturday. Yesterday LSU rejected the bid.

Bud Wilkinson Accepts Pact For $125,000

NEW ORLEANS — (AP)—Bud Wilkinson leaves New Orleans today with a $125,000 contract that spirit earned for him and his Oklahoma football team.

The contract officially matches Oklahoma against Kentucky in the Sugar bowl game here New Year's day. That's the Oklahoma team that Wilkinson predicted would lose two of its first three games this year and the Oklahoma that lost seven men to the Oklahoma National Guard shortly before the football season opened.

Wilkinson flew to New Orleans to sign the document which will bring his team an estimated $125,000.

The 34-year-old coach was proud of his team.

"We have no depth and the boys had to make up for it in spirit," he said. "They came from behind time after time to win."

Wilkinson said the development of quarterback Claude Arnold and other players was another factor in the team's success. Arnold is a smart signal-caller and has natural ability in analyzing situations. Four sophomores—halfback Billy Vessels, end Kay Keller, center Tom Catlin and tackle Melvin Brown—also came through when needed.

Wilkinson said he had not seen Kentucky play this season and hadn't looked at films of any Kentucky game. He said Oklahoma would hold its pre-bowl practices in Biloxi, Miss., again this year.

Oklahoma was 14-6 victor over North Carolina in the 1949 Sugar bowl and 35-0 winner over Louisiana State this year.

Gavilan Belts Out Win Over Janiro

CLEVELAND — (AP)—Kid Gavilan belted out a unanimous decision over Tony Janiro of Youngstown, O., last night in a 10-round bout which helped bring in $61,269, the third largest this season in the nation.

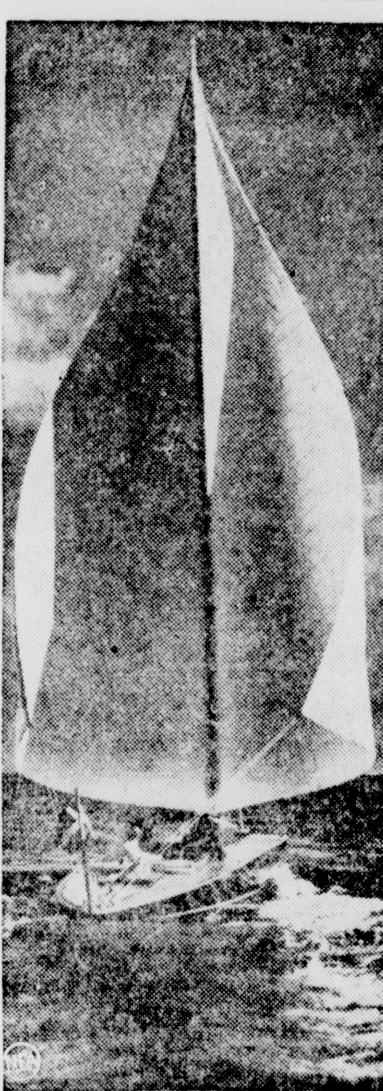

After expenses met, the remainder will go to a Christmas toyshop fund.

While 9,342 looked on at Cleveland arena, Gavilan scored with quick left hooks and right crosses to the head and took the lead in seven rounds.

Charles Fights Barone Tonight

Little Honor Team Listed

NEW YORK — (AP)—Eleven football players who, without much doubt would star on any major college team in the country, have been named on the Associated Press' annual Little All-American team.

A repeater in the "little" backfield, Brad Rowland of McMurry college in Texas, is regarded by southwest conference coaches as one of the greatest backs ever produced by the Lone Star state.

His three backfield mates on the mythical eleven are Carl Taff of John Carroll in Cleveland, Robert Miller of Emory and Henry, and Richard Doane of Lehigh.

At the ends are Norb Hecker, Baldwin-Wallace, and Mernard Calendar of Louisiana; at tackles Sal Gero of Elon college and Gal Roberts, Gustavus Adolphus; at guards Jack Hawkins, Central Washington, and Ed Douglas, New Hampshire; at center Charles Cope of Franklin and Marshall.

IN MEMORIAM
In loving memory of our beloved father, Frank Ludwig, who was taken from our family on December 7, 1949.

He little thought when leaving home He would return no more. That he in death so soon would sleep And leave us here to mourn. We do not know what pain he bore. We did not see him die. We only know he passed away And could not say goodbye.

Sadly missed by his WIFE, SON AND DAUGHTERS.

Television Advertising Got Many Parents Sore

By ROBERT C. RUARK
NEW YORK—A lot of people, if my accumulated mail is any evidence, got mighty sore over the blackmail advertising campaign which was designed to make the kiddies cry for television, thereby pressuring papa into a forced purchase. This was regarded by many—mostly parents without TV sets in their homes—as real dirty pool.

All the agency did was to run a nation-wide campaign shaped to make the non-ownership of TV punishable by social ostracism. The kiddies in the ad stared accusingly at mean old Scrooge, you, and directly charged you with blighting their lives because of no holly doody or Hopalong in the home. An authority on young'un raising, was moved, for a sum, to write an endorsement in which he said TV was "as necessary to juvenile morale as fresh air and sunshine for health."

The whole campaign was handled cleverly. You almost found yourself believing that tomorrow's neurotic was your own special victim, and when the psychiatrist searches out his blocks and frustrations, it will be discovered that millions of young adults are raging messes of myopia of the soul, due to no Milton Berle.

More Hucklesterism
I tried to get mad for about a week, and suddenly began to snicker. The thing that everybody seems so upset about is scarcely a deviation from standard huckstering procedures decades old. A great portion of demand creation has always been founded on threat.

By now it is well known that B. O., bad breath and tattle-tale gray are endemic in the world, and only special brands of soap, mouth-wash and deodorants can save every man from ostracism. The cigarette companies largely have convinced us that we will all get leprosy, sooner or later, unless we puff a certain brand of coffin nail.

There is practically no commodity I can think of that sometimes, somehow, fails to hint that your life is a shambles unless you wear a certain corset to fend off lordosis or serve delicious, pure morale-building old very ancient antique maiden aunt, a blend of cane spirits and year-old rye, every time the preacher comes to call.

Malicious gossip, and the fear of being expelled from the herd, has always carried a lead-pipe lure for the unwilling customer. Women are shown talking behind their hands about poor Nellie's untidy bathroom or her dishpan hands. Children are portrayed as wan fugitives from a DP camp until they suddenly start to munch alfalfa crunch-bits, or some such, and then they bloom into Shirley Temples and Joe Di-Maggiore overnight.

Babies, I was told as a youth, wept, wailed and tore up the crib unless mama kept them loaded on some special nostrum that was supposed to taste good. Poor Peter's vacation was a bust because he suffered from five-o'clock shadow, but love came suddenly when he switches to Calvert's.

Do you want to be bald? Do eyeglasses spoil your charm? Has your husband or anybody else kissed your hands lately, madam? Why be fat, nervous, thin, run-down or dead? Most sound merchandising or the creation of customer appeal, has life roots in either threat or suggestion or a combination of both.

It may be non-cricket for the makers of television sets to hand the kiddies another club to pound papa with, but it is hardly a world-shattering incident. Children have been wheedling and blackmailing parents for a long time—for the ice cream cone the red sled or the bicycle—and always with the excuse that Johnny Jones, down the block has understanding parents who never fail to give Johnny the cone, the sled, the bike, because Johnny's parents love and appreciate Johnny, while nobody loves me and I'm gonna run away and be a cowboy....

Thus it is, was and will be, whether it involves a television set or an all-day sucker. The hucksters know it, exploit it, and somehow, I just can't get too sore at it. What we call our high standard of living today was practically built on it.

President Wants GI Schooling For Korea Veterans

By WILLIAM F. ARBOGAST
WASHINGTON — (AP) — Congressional leaders quoted President Truman as saying he wants veterans of the Korean fighting to have the "G. I. Educational Aid" that was given veterans of World War Two.

After a White House conference, House Speaker Rayburn (D-Tex.) also said Mr. Truman had urged action on legislation to:

1. Create a civil defense administration.

2. Provide federal aid for training of additional medical men.

Mr. Truman signed an order last week to establish a civil defense administration and appointed former Gov. Millard Caldwell of Florida to head it. But the administration wants legislation to give the administration much broader powers than Mr. Truman can give it by executive order.

The educational benefits Mr. Truman proposes for Korean veterans allowed the veterans of World War Two to return to school with tuition and basic costs paid by the government.

Atomic Scientists Are Indicted For Contempt Of House

WASHINGTON — (AP) — Three scientists who worked on the atomic bomb and two men identified as veteran Communist organizers were indicted Monday for contempt of Congress.

The indictments returned by a federal grand jury named Steve Nelson, 47, Communist party organizer for Western Pennsylvania who allegedly set up a Red cell in the wartime University of California radiation laboratory.

Marcel Scherer, 51, like Nelson linked by the House un-American activities committee with Red infiltration of the radiation laboratory.

David Joseph Bohm, 33, Giovanni Rossi Lomanitz, 29, and Irving David Fox, 30, scientists who worked in the radiation laboratory in connection with development of the atomic bomb.

All five indictments were based on refusal to answer questions by the House un-American activities committee.
